

Kelley Blue Book's Provisional Clunkers List

Is your car on the verge of becoming a government-certified clunker?

Following is a list of cars and trucks that might be good candidates for proposed legislation that would allow registered owners of these vehicles to scrap them in exchange for vouchers worth up to $4,500 toward the purchase of new, more fuel-efficient vehicles. The list includes cars and light trucks with a Kelley Blue Book Trade-in Value of $4,500 or less, rated to return 18 miles per gallon or less ("new" EPA combined mpg). The list reaches back 20 model years to 1990, but earlier cars would also qualify.

For more program details and updates, visit www.kbb.com/cashforclunkerslist

A few explanations and disclaimers:

1. There's a chance this program won't become a reality. There's also a chance that some of the requirements will change if it does. So we advise against using this list to start making any concrete plans.
2. Just because your Year/Make/Model is on this list doesn't necessarily mean it's worth less than $4,500. This list was compiled with Kelley Blue Book Western Region values for standard-equipped vehicles as of 5/15/2009. Values will vary depending on location, equipment, mileage, etc., so be sure to get a value specific to your car at www.kbb.com.
3. Conversely, even if your car ISN'T on this list it could still be a good candidate for the proposed program. We've only listed model years back to 1990, we didn't include heavy-duty light trucks (for which the cutoff is 15 mpg) or work trucks (any pre-2002 model qualifies) and we were generally conservative in constructing the list. If your vehicle isn't on the list but similar vehicles are, check your trade-in value at www.kbb.com.
4. Don't use this list to kid yourself into thinking your clunker isn't a clunker after all. Just because a car gets better than 18 mpg does not make it exempt from clunker status. It just exempts it from this program as it's currently proposed.
5. Details may change along the way, so keep an eye on www.kbb.com/cashforclunkerslist for more information and status updates.
